LOCAL POWER OF ATTORNEY MADE OVER

Some months ago W. L. Howard sent a power of attorney to Prof. Sedgewick at Trujillo, Peru, who was asked to sign it and send it back. The form mailed was the usual one, such as the book-stores sell for five cents and was filled out with an authorization for Mry Howard to manage Prof. Sedgewick's the featherweight boxing championship local property.

Prof. Sedgewick took the power of attorney to a Peruvian notary for the usual acknowledgment, but there and then he struck a snag. The document, before it could go out with the notary's signature, must be rendered in Spanish. This needed time and it was several months before Sedgewick got the power of attorney back. Yesterday it reached Mr. Howard in a formidable envelope with twenty-one stamps on the back. There had been some on the fact but people on the postal route had torn them off.

Inside were eight pages bound in Venetian red paper, ornamented with mittee. seroll-work and five seals, that of the notary, the Minister of Instruction, the Mayor of Trujillo, the Chief Clerk of the Peruvian Foreign Office and of Richard Neill, secretary of the U. S.

Heaven knows what the fees were; Howard doesn't.

Human beings are not slone in suffering from plague in The disease has been bad of late in the Mysore state, where it is reported, writes a Simla correspondent, that one of the palace elephants has succumbed after developing what seemed to be typical plague swellings. A Mysore correspondent writes to a membay paper that elephants and deer are also dying in the Heggaddevankot forests of what is believed, locally, to be nothing else than the plague, which has been prevalent among the human inhabitants of some of the villages in the neighborhood.

An expert statistician figures that there are today some 5,000,000 of adult males (that is, one out of every three) in this country who earry life insurance, outside of the fraternal orders and the like.
